DCI Ranked in Top 100 List of Financial Technology Companies

– iCore360® Developer Continues to Gain Industry Attention for Award-Winning Tech –

HUTCHINSON, KAN., October 5, 2016 – Data Center Inc. (DCI), the privately-owned developer of iCore360® core banking software and related technologies, has been ranked as one of the 2016 IDC Financial Insights FinTech Rankings top 100 technology providers to financial institutions worldwide.

"The stability of DCI is one of the many reasons community bankers trust DCI as their core technology partner," said John H. Jones, DCI President and CEO, adding, "We welcome this industry recognition as a testament to the even higher value bankers place on our foundation of private ownership and personal connection with them."

DCI is unique among most core technology companies included in the rankings and in the industry overall, remaining privately owned by a group of clients for over 53 years, with several clients serving as board members and user group leaders involved in the development of the company's technologies. As a result, the company has a long history of stability and a reputation for highly personal customer service, evidenced by consistently high satisfaction and contract renewal rates.

The 2016 IDC ranking is the latest boost in recognition and growth for DCI over recent years. Last year DCI was also named on the 2015 FinTech Forward Top 100, was awarded the BankNews Innovative Solutions Award for the third time and received an exclusive endorsement from the California Bankers Association, all supporting an explosive growth trend from new sales activity and significant acquisitions to expand its Internet and mobile banking product lines and market position in the industry. The company has also won multiple awards for its technical infrastructure work and expertise.
