iCore360® Document Imaging

Automated Online Paperless Document Management Library

Simplify The Management Of Your Key Information And Break The Paper Barrier

Finally, your bank can break through the paper barrier and truly become free of physical paper files, with the most advanced, integrated and automated system designed to eliminate cumbersome, time-consuming physical paper filing and storage systems, and simplify the management of your key information resources.

The Next Generation
The iCore360® document imaging option is far more than a scanning utility. Completely embedded into iCore360® this is a remarkably intuitive, next-generation document management solution that instantly creates a truly paperless environment at your bank.

With just a click of the mouse, iCore360® automatically and instantly places any document—or even specific data from a document—directly at your fingertips, without ever leaving iCore360®.

Using only the best scanning and capture technologies available, documents are scanned directly into iCore360® where they are automatically indexed, filed, and linked by customer, account, and user-defined groups for instant storage, retrieval, and management. Using advanced optical, handwriting and barcode recognition iCore360® also automatically captures specific customer or bank information and signatures.

A simple, color-coded filing system with intuitive tools lets you find, print, view, export, copy, paste, move and repair documents, with filing and review options for type, dates, page numbers, and expiration actions. You can also easily attach documents from applications like Word, Excel, Acrobat, etc., to a customer or account.

The VirtualReScan (VRS) technology ensures that every document is usable by automatically correcting defects and problem areas.

Core technology you can depend on . . . a relationship you can trust.

With a single click, you can instantly see all documents for a particular customer, account, or user-defined group. You can move, copy and paste documents to another customer or account, and add pages to a document. And through the advanced integration of iCore360®, you and your tellers can instantly verify signature cards, driver licenses and check images, all by simply clicking an icon on the iCore360® teller toolbar.

Best of all, the iCore360® document imaging option outperforms other solutions —even stand alone. The iCore360® document imaging option is just one more reason iCore360® puts you far ahead in functionality, capabilities efficiency and value.
