Simplify the management of your key information and break the paper barrier.

Finally, your bank can truly be free of physical paper files, with the most advanced, integrated system designed to eliminate cumbersome, time-consuming physical paper filing and storage systems, and simplify the management of your key information resources.

The Next Generation

iCore360 Document Imaging is far more than a scanning utility. Completely embedded into iCore360, this is a remarkably intuitive, next-generation document management solution that instantly creates a truly paperless environment at your bank.

With just a click of the mouse, iCore360 places any document – or even specific data from a document – directly at your fingertips, without ever leaving iCore360.

Using only the best scanning and capture technologies available, documents are scanned directly into iCore360 where they are indexed, filed, and linked by customer, account, and user-defined groups for instant storage, retrieval, and management.

You can find, print, view, export, copy, paste and move documents with filing and review options for type, dates, page numbers, and expiration actions.

And through the advanced integration of iCore360, you and your tellers can instantly verify signature cards and driver licenses, by simply clicking on an icon on the iCore360 teller toolbar.

You can also easily attach documents from applications like Word, Excel, Acrobat, etc., to a customer or account.

Best of all, iCore360 Document Imaging outperforms other solutions – even stand alone options. iCore360 Document Imaging is just one more reason iCore360 puts you far ahead in functionality, capabilities, efficiency and value.
